

Guy Barnett MP

Minister for State Development, Construction and Housing
Minister for Energy and Renewables
Minister for Resources
Minister for Veterans Affairs
Liberal Member for Lyons

Tasmanian Government Media Release

12 June 2022

Guy Barnett, Minister for State Development, Construction and Housing

Tasmanian Architecture Awards

Tasmanian architects have been recognised for their innovative work overnight at the Tasmanian Architecture Awards.

Hosted by the Tasmanian Chapter of the Australian Institute of Architects, the Awards are an opportunity to celebrate the best of our local architects, with a line-up of impressive and innovative projects on show at this year's awards.

Categories that were featured included residential and commercial architecture, urban design, heritage, education, and sustainability.

The Awards reflected the outstanding efforts of Tasmania's architects, and the entries represented the high quality of architecture in Tasmania, demonstrating leadership and expertise in the field.

We know that architecture and design bring life to the buildings and spaces that our community interacts with every day, and events such as the Tasmanian Architecture Awards are so important to acknowledge the contributions that this sector makes to the Tasmanian built environment and the communities within it.

24 projects were entered in this year's Tasmanian Architecture Awards. The projects were entered across ten categories and constituted a total of 31 individual entries that reflected the immense talent in Tasmania's architecture and design sector.

Tasmanian entrants who were awarded a Named Award or Architecture Award are now eligible for consideration of a National Award, to be presented in November 2022.

I congratulate each of the award winners, as well as the Tasmanian Chapter of the Institute of Architects for hosting such a successful event.

A list of the winners can be found here: <https://architectureau.com/articles/2022-tasmanian-architecture-awards/>