Guy Barnett, Liberal Member for Lyons

Vale John Morris

John Morris was a caring and generous man and one of Launceston's most eminent citizens.

The John Morris Diabetes Centre in Launceston was named after him for good reason.

As a Diabetes Australia Ambassador, I know Dr Morris was a strong advocate for people with diabetes and was willing to go beyond the call of duty to support them.

Dr Morris always provided the best care possible for people with diabetes and their families.

Dr Morris was motivated by his Christian beliefs, appreciated the history and heritage of Launceston and never stopped giving to and supporting his community.
