THE FUTURE OF TRIABUNNA

8 October 2013

Plans for an eco-resort and tourism development at Triabunna by part-owner Graeme Wood are of course welcome. But the plaudits by Labor Premier Giddings and Greens leader McKim are irksome at best. The Triabunna woodchip mill was closed almost three years ago following green protesters getting their way and the state government sanctioned and supported jobs destroying forestry agreement was initiated. Under this agreement the chip mill was to reopen. So it is no surprise the largest swing against Labor at the recent federal election was 26% in Triabunna. Labor left this resilient community in the lurch.

The unequivocal growth, development and jobs agenda of the Liberals is designed to give hope and opportunity, especially in a community with so much potential as the Triabunna region. Well done to the Council and its Mayor Bertrand Cadart for trying to build a future for this region.

Kind regards
