First 100 Days - to take Tasmania to the next level

1 March 2018

Will Hodgman, Premier

A re-elected majority Liberal Government will hit the ground running with our plan to take Tasmania to the next level.

Today I have released a 100 Day Plan that details the immediate actions we will take to grow the economy and create more jobs, to invest more into essential services like health and education, to keep the cost of living down, and to invest in the infrastructure our growing State needs.

My team will get straight down to business on delivering our plan, with around 100 new policies we have announced, and which Tasmanians know from our track record we can be trusted to deliver.

Tasmania has come a long way over the last four years under majority Liberal Government, but our plan is to take Tasmania to the next level.

Only the Liberal Party has the strong team, the plan and the proven track record to deliver it.
