FARM SCHOOLS

7 October 2013

Dear Sir

The Tasmanian farm school workshop held at the Hagley farm school recently was a productive initiative. Congratulations to the Primary Industries Education Foundation for organising it and flying in three expert speakers.

School farms provide an important contribution to the education of thousands of Tasmanian school children every year. The Hagley farm school and environment centre is a stand out and we are proud of its contribution to education and agriculture in this state.

Kind regards
