Full disclosure needed on ad campaign

Tasmanians urgently need full disclosure from the shadowy organisation attempting to drum up opposition to plans for the salmon industry expansion near Triabunna.

This organisation, which calls itself Let's Grow Tasmania's Future, appears to be just another front for the anti-jobs coalition of radical environmentalists and the Greens.

There is nothing on their website to disclose their origins, membership, or backers, apart from a blatantly misleading claim to be 'non-politically-aligned and not anti-salmon farming'.

The LGTF has been exposed today for peddling mistruths, so they must now come clean and reveal exactly who is behind this campaign.
